Message from the Commadore,

The one thing that seems to be a constant with The Yacht Club is change. The first change you see for the month of April is we are now in a new location. You can now find your facility by walking past the fuel docks, through a marina security gate, turn left and proceed to the LMYC entrance. Our new location should be good for some time as we are in deeper water and the marina layout should remain constant for water levels, rising or falling. Change number two is your Membership Roster for 2004.

The changes and all of the color is the result of the Advertisers' support. Remember these people and organizations when you are shopping for goods and services. Additional copies are available from the ship's store for $10.00 per copy. Item three is not so much of a change as it is an affirmation of Club Rules. After much discussion between Board Members and the General Membership in attendance at the April Board meeting, a motion was passed to add the following to the Club House Rules,

"Attendance at a Scheduled Yacht Club Social Event that is held at the Club Facility shall be limited to adults of the age of twenty-one (21) years or older". Never will everyone be satisfied with everything that happens. Boating season is upon us and it is time to enjoy. Come out and enjoy the company of friends and family at the new location, and be sure to plan on visiting the "old guys" at the Past Commadore's Party.

St. Pat's Party Report

The weather was great, the members and guests stunning in green, the food was excellent, but the entertainment was a bust...

About 62 members and guests attended the St. Pat's party on March 20th held under the tent and hosted by Marcia and Gene Krause.

Earlier Saturday morning the tables and chairs were brought up from the Yacht Club by Tom Tedder, Bob Smith, Brent Thompson, Steve Wilcox, Dean Granzow, Tom Scherer, Corwon Finley, Jim Lang and Bill Wilson and next, the ping pong table was brought up via the Bondeliner (Marty's boat), to the dock then loaded onto a truck by Corwon, Jim and Tom Tedder which was no easy feat as that table was heavy. The tent activity under Marcia's guidance went well with Pat and Max Butterworth, Jim Lang and Joan Kilburn, Mary Beth and Gary Weinberg and Pat Baldwin as well as Corwon & Tom Scherer giving a helping hand. Gene Krause did his set up for the evening meal and also prepared lunch for those who stayed.

So, let the party begin – 6pm cocktails and with the help of Geno Hill and Marty Schwartz the corned beef was carved and dinner was ready. Then the Blue's Bros. arrived – late and they had to set up for an hour so it was decided to hold the auction for the Sea Doo donated by Kenny Farmer and the ping pong table, which no one ever laid claim to, it's been at the yacht club for many months - a new one at that! Our auctioneer, Geno Hill who is very adept at this and I guess has had lots of practice started with the ping pong table. Pat Baldwin was the highest bidder but then donates it back to the club and off we go again, finally ending up with Brent Thompson as the lucky owner. Next came the Sea Doo with various members bidding and the last bid – going, going, gone – was member, Edy Seaver. The trailer also went with the Sea Doo and the money from both these items to our club fund.

The entertainment still wasn't set up, so on to the raffle conducted by our host Marcia Krause with the help of Jim Lang – neither one of them had their glasses and didn't realize there were two different sets of raffle tickets so after having two winners for the same Grey Goose 1.75 litre vodka they realized all the numbers had to be read, not just the last four – Bonnie Jeu had the shortest win in history!!

On to the entertaining evening – very disappointing – Marcia and this writer, Mel had been to a party a few months back and they were funny and good – so we apologize for their non-funny antics and are crossing them off our list...

The Krause's thank all their helpers and Gene Krause especially thanks Max Butterworth, as he not only set up but he was up at the tent early Sunday morning with Gene helping put everything away.

All these party hosts and helpers help make this club and they are very much appreciated, so thanks to the Krause's and their helpers and a big thanks to Marcia & Gene for donating the food, too – their in the business you know!!!

1. Cottonwood Cove get-a-way, for those 26 souls that went, said it was just the best and so the place is booked for our 2005 March party. A substantial deposit was given, so this is on for sure. Mark your calendars!!!
2. The lake is going to drop 10' more by the end of May, but it was noted that our yacht club will remain in the location it is now and should be permanent.
3. If you want to park your boat at the club for a function, etc. contact our Capt. of the Fleet Gary Weinberg and he will tell you whether it is possible.
4. A few of our top officials took a few hours and checked beaches for our May beach party. They were not too successful. If you're out and about, keep your eyes peeled for a beach and inform one of the board if you find something.
5. Tom Tedder reported that locks will be changed the week of April 12th. You should have your new keys and roster and this Waterlog some time in that week as well, so if you're reading this you received everything.
6. Commodore Corwon reported that you can purchase our shirts and jackets at the Callville store.
7. Our web site guy, Bill Gornet says the web site is up and running. He's looking to initiate a password protection format for the membership section of the website and will have more info on this later. You might want to visit the web site and sign up for parties under shopping cart, then Bill would forward these to the party hosts.
8. Our Library – Debbie wants the membership to know that if they take a book, they don't necessarily have to return it, as long as they add to the library on occasion.
