Message from the Commodore,

The year of 2004 continues to move through the seasons and your Yacht Club continues to evolve. The LMYC facility is still located in the shallow water of the bay and there is nothing the Board can do to freshen the scent of the water. The facilities' utilities are functioning properly. Speaking of seasons and evolving, we owe a great deal of THANKS to Chuck and Marilyn Kruse for providing the labor and materials required to repair the clubhouse roof.

We are now safe from the monsoons. This is one time that "dry" for the LMYC is not a four-letter word. Speaking of "THANKS", did all of you enjoy the Great Lobster Bake? Elsewhere in this Waterlog you will find thanks and credits to the LMYC sponsors and their volunteer staff. From the Commodore on behalf of the membership we wish to THANK Mr. Randy Roundtree and his staff for their assistance in helping with setting up, cleaning up and especially delivering our tables and chairs back to the clubhouse. It was also a pleasure to welcome Randy and his wife to the festivities. It is not too late to volunteer for the Nominating Committee, but the window is closing fast.

THANKS to past commodores Bob Gatewood and Dave Dobbins for preparing Guidelines for Conducting the Election of Annual Membership Meeting. The guidelines have been adopted by the Board and will be posted in the clubhouse for your reference. We are sure that their effort and your review and participation will insure an orderly election of the 2005 Board. Now it's time to Luau Luau in Hidden Cove.

* * First Class News * *

1. This is a belated thank you to the Granzows for the excellent "Castaway" party they hosted in July. We neglected to thank them for all their work as well as the great write-up Sheryl did for the Waterlog. Thanks, guys...
2. New member Peggy Browning had a birthday August 14th, she and Dick also had an anniversary August 29th. Sorry we missed you.
3. Mark your calendars for Sept. 18th at 10am as a work party is planned to pre-load the barge for the Luau at the yacht club. Do come, please as we need your help. Also, the locks on the outside ice boxes will be changed that day so we can have all the ice for the Luau. If you need some, use the inside and bag it as well.
4. Volunteers are needed for the 2005 nominating committee so please call our Commodore Corwon at 367-2888 as early as possible. Thank you.
5. New voting procedures were submitted by Dave Dobbins & Bob Gatewood and adopted as presented.
6. Our facilities administrator Tom Tedder reports that all is working well with the help of trustee Charlie Barker. Everything is really good at the yacht club now, says Tom...
7. Palm trees for the Luau are available, so if you would like one contact our Commodore.
8. Vice-Commodore Jim Lang would like an early RSVP to the Luau. This would be greatly appreciated, as this is our biggest party of the year.
9. Thanks to Callville for their help at the Lobster Party, they were great and helped immensely with the tables and chairs, and bartender Gena did a great job for us, too. Thank you, everyone.

2004 Lobster Party Report

They say it may take a village to raise a child, but we know it also takes a village to throw a Yacht Club party. These parties do not come together without the dedicated help of those members who volunteer their services and time to do the things necessary to make a party successful.

This year's party was no exception. Thanks to Jim Lang for coordinating the logistics of the party with Callville Bay management and staff. Don Reed graciously helped by using his pickup truck to haul chairs and supplies up the hill with Wayne Jeu, Al Garraway and Jim Lang. Marty Schwartzer and his new "Piece of Ship" vessel was also there moving party supplies from the yacht club to Don's pickup. It was a well-coordinated effort involving lots of hard work and sweat.

While Mel Garraway, Jill Weinberg (MB & Gary's daughter) and Mary Beth were involved with decorating the tables and tent, Al Garraway received a call saying the lobster truck had gotten lost and turned around, heading back to town. At the same time, Gary Weinberg was hauling party supplies from his boat when he accidentally dropped his key ring and all of his keys into 42 ft. of water alongside his boat. Thanks to the aid of our boat neighbor, "Divin" Bob Smith and his superb diving talents, the keys were quickly rescued. Kudos to Bob Smith for saving the day.

As Murphy's Law continued, MB and Gary's friend, Marty O'Connor was on her way to Callville Bay with a van loaded with Filets, crabmeat and all the fixings for the salad. Unfortunately, she missed her turn for Callville Bay and ended up by the Hacienda Hotel near the dam. As if this wasn't fun enough, the tire on her van had completely shredded.

While she waited by the roadside watching the lettuce wilt, a motorcycle rider stopped and assisted her with the tire change so she could get back on her way. Gary, with keys in hand was able to venture out to find her. Next party, "Murphy" will not be invited.

After overcoming these obstacles the party preparations continued with Mel and Al Garraway, Jill Weinberg, Marty O'Connor, MB, Gary, Joan Kilburn and Jim Lang. Without these guys, there would have been no '04 Lobster party!

With party guests arriving for 6:00 PM cocktails, Joan

Kilburn was diligently working to put the appetizers together so that Jill Weinberg and Diane Nelson could begin passing around to the guests while we welcomed everyone to the party.

Thank you, Steve Jones and friends for collecting the money and selling the raffle tickets.

Raffle sales were brisk due to a super variety of prizes. Thanks to Sandy and Steve from Palazzo Palms in the Village Shops at Lake Las Vegas for donating the plethora of prizes. Also, thanks to the Splash, Bath and Body Store located in the same village, for their prize donations. The most popular prize was the decorative Canine Travel Pack, which MB and Gary found while browsing in a store during a recent trip to the Florida Panhandle and the most popular winner AGAIN was Bonnie Jeu winning three prizes during the evening. A total of 19 prizes were raffled.

Art Thomas, our legendary lobster cook was unavailable this year and through the assistance of Marty Schwartzer, we found a great replacement...Keith Sakowski & sons. Keith received great reviews for his preparation of the lobsters and filets. Thank you Marty, for making this happen and for your gracious loan of the pots, pans and supplies from the kitchen on "DAT DAM BOTE".

Our DJ, Wayne played an excellent variety of music and did a great job of bringing folks onto the dance floor. In fact, the dance floor was still quite active when he announced "last dance". The party animals, like Sandy Keating, Dick Crider, Steve and Irene Jones and friends, Deb and Corwon and all the others who never skipped a beat went from two-stepping right into cleaning up the dance floor, folding tables and chairs and gathering huge bags of garbage.

The Sunday Morning clean-up crew was pleasantly surprised when they arrived at the tent to find that Callville Bay personnel had hauled away all the garbage and assisted with the clean up. The remainder of chores were completed by MB and Gary, daughter Jill, friend Marty O, Al Garraway, Jim & Joan and Dick Browning.

Next day reviews were positive from the members and guests we spoke with expressing their gratitude for such a fun event. We had RSVP's of 86 and we thank you all for your efforts in your commitment to attend. It really helps when trying to plan a menu.

A big thank you to the Weinbergs and their crew for this annual great party. Everything was delicious and the yacht club does appreciate these volunteers each month, for without them these functions would not happen. Also, this editor expresses her appreciation for the great report M.B. wrote about the party.
